

1888 to 2013 – 125 years of automobile-history in one building:

Mercedes-Benz Museum

The third and last possibility for the Tuesday is as always a visit to the Mercedes-Benz Museum which is an eye-catcher from the outside thanks to its unique architecture, but also something to look at from the inside, what with 1450 exhibits, 160 of which are cars.

At the moment you have the chance to see the special S-Class exhibition: the latest generation had its world premiere some weeks ago. The special exhibition “Mercedes-Benz S-Class – always ahead of the times” at the Mercedes-Benz Museum presents the history of this very superior model series in all its glory.

Some of you might already have been to the Mercedes-Benz Museum in the past years, but it is always worth a second visit. This time Jana Gilke will accompany you there. There are only forty slots on the list, so please sign up as soon as possible if you want to go.

Admission is free for everyone

Departure-time International: Tuesday 8.00am

Departure-time Neckarpark: Tuesday 8.20am

